The Organisers will also be able to arrange, directly or indirectly, for the production and distribution of other publications of various kinds, and reserve the right to use such publications to illustrate and advertise the Exhibition at any time and in any surroundings, in Italy or elsewhere.

12. Protection of the property

The individual exhibitors are responsible for protection of their own property.

13. Security

The Organiser will provide ordinary, general day and night security cover, but declines all responsibility including liability for "natural occurrences and force majeure".

Security cover applies to the building as a whole, but does not cover the individual stands. If individual exhibitors see the need for a security service for their own stands, the Organisers can provide names of authorised security companies on request.

14. Insurance

The Organisers will arrange third-party (civil liability) insurance.

Exhibited objects and materials are not covered by this insurance: these will need to be insured under policies taken out by the individual exhibitors.

- Contravention of the above rules will lead to penalties in addition to exclusion from the Exhibition in future years.

17. Promotional activities

In addition to the obligation of compliance with legal and public safety requirements, promotional activities, distribution of advertising material etc, which may only be conducted within the promoter's own exhibition space, must be such as not to injure, damage, disturb or annoy the other exhibitors or the visitors.

18. Photography and reproductions

Stands and exhibited products may not be photographed, filmed, drawn or recorded in any way without the authorisation of the exhibitors concerned and of the Organising Secretariat. The Organisers cannot however be held liable for any contraventions by third parties.

However, the Organising Secretariat itself reserves the right to record, or to authorise the recording of, general or detailed views, outdoor or indoor, for the purposes of a proper record of the Exhibition.

No photographic or cinematographic equipment may be brought within the perimeter of the Exhibition without the Organising Secretariat's written permission. A copy of every authorised record must be supplied to the Organising Secretariat.

The Organisers reserves the right to make such rules and standards as they think fit - even in derogation of these General Regulations - for the proper regulation of the Exhibition and the services within it (e.g. Exhibitor's Vademecum). Such rules and standards shall have equal validity with these General Regulations and shall accordingly be similarly binding. In the event of contravention of any part of these General Regulations, the Organisers also reserve the right to expel any exhibitor from the Exhibition, in which case the expelled exhibitor shall not be entitled to any manner of refund or compensation.

21. Force majeure

The Exhibition may be postponed or suppressed altogether in the event of force majeure or any cause outside the Organisers' control. The Organisers shall not be liable for damages on any grounds.

22. Complaints

Any complaints must be made in writing not later than eight 8 days from the discovery of an alleged deficiency or defect(s), and at all events within 8 days of the end of the event. Any breach of any clause of these regulations may result in the participant's immediate exclusion, without this entitling the participant to reimbursement of the sums paid or to compensation and/or indemnity for damages the participant claims to have sustained.

The Court of Milan shall have sole jurisdiction and venue over any controversy, with any and all other concurrent Courts excluded, and the Italian text of the General Regulations shall be authoritative.
